Preview Show

Last fall, the Hereford breed lost a fellow breeder and dear friend when Bill Doughty, Jr. was killed in a tragic vehicle accident. Since Randolph County is where Bill lived; the IJHA is hosting the preview show at Randolph County fairgrounds in Winchester, Indiana. This show is in memory of Bill. Here are the details:

Friday, June 24: You may setup after 3 p.m.

Saturday, June 25: All cattle must be stalled in the barn at 8 a.m. Check in begins at 9. The open show starts at noon with showmanship following. There will be an IJHA meeting after showmanship. A hamburger cookout meal will be provided Saturday evening.

Sunday, June 26: Junior show starts at 9 a.m.

The Randolph County Beef Association will be selling breakfast and lunch from the concession stand on Saturday and Sunday.

Entry forms are enclosed, one entry form per exhibitor, and they must be posted marked by June 13, 2011.

Hope to see you at Preview Show. If you have any questions please contact Lillian Hayhurst at Lillian.hayhurst@gmail.com or by phone (812)-696-2468.

Coloring Sheet

For younger kids at preview show there will be a coloring contest. There will be a coloring sheet that kids under seven can color. The IJHA board will post the coloring sheets so people at the show can vote on their favorite by placing pennies in containers. When the end of the show comes around, we will total the containers to see who has the most. Whoever has the most money will receive half of what was put in their container.
